

Kristlin Ringas - Personal Reflection

I participated in a Banned Books Seminar. The goal of this project was to create an informative seminar to librarians about banned books and how book banning works. My task in the project was to create the seminar.

All the team members were divided into smaller groups and we had different tasks. My task was to create the seminar that will be presented to the librarians. I helped to create the structure of the seminar and come up with group tasks for the listeners about banned books.

During the project I learned to communicate a bit better and I also got some experience from it. Also, while I had some knowledge of banned books, I learned more about it and understood it better.

I don't think there were too many problems while creating the project and it went quite smoothly. Next time I'll try to communicate with other members more and give my opinions on the project.

Overall, I really liked the project and I was happy to take part in it.